CTCIT Changes Name to Xtona

Brainerd, MN – The name change does not impact CTC the broadband, phone and TV coop, it only reflects a change to our IT business division (CTCIT). Technology solutions for businesses continue to increase in complexity and demand as remote worker requirements, cyber security attacks, and proactive network support becomes more critical. Due to this increased demand for services and quickly-evolving technology, CTCIT has expanded its services and changed its name to Xtona.

“We’re excited to offer a more expansive suite of IT and network services to our local businesses. As we continue to grow, we felt this was the perfect time to rebrand our business IT services,” said Kristi Westbrook, CTC’s CEO/General Manager. “Regardless of the change, our customers will continue to experience the same exemplary level of service as they have today,” she continued.

Some of their services include cyber security, business compliance, firewall and network support and monitoring, asset management, policy development, email filtering, continuity management, and back up disaster recovery.

“CTC and Xtona offer the best of both worlds for business communication. With CTC’s fiber network, you can get fast reliable internet while Xtona partners with you to help with any of your IT needs,” said Kelvin Daniels, Xtona’s Director of Sales and Channels. “It’s an ever-changing industry and we look forward to working with businesses of all sizes and industries.”

Xtona is a managed services provider (MSP) that specializes in small to medium sized businesses and multi-location entities. Xtona responds to each business’s unique technology infrastructure with a systematic and comprehensive approach. Their planning includes flexible management and quick response to all business needs.
